FOUNDER'S STORY

Mr Deep's friend Ajay is actively watching esports tournaments (PUBG, Valorant and Freefire). He realised how Ajay has analytical skills about players, yet cannot extract any productivity out of it. Just like Ajay, there might be so many remarkable people out there wasting their time as well as analysing skills for nothing but recreation. This spiked up the idea in their mind.

He strategically researched and observed the requirements and trends of the industry and crafted this platform. Clash of Squads is a platform specifically designed for e-gaming and esports streamers to support their favourite gamers.
